FR. CLEMENT

EMPOWERED TO LOVE

In today's Gospel Jesus says, "Love one another as I have loved you." This command is foundational to the entire Christian life. It is simple and yet difficult. Most of us find it much easier to love an invisible God than a neighbor who is often in the way of our preferences, sensibilities, and personal rights. Loving others just seem to be the most difficult part of being a Christian. But if you have been baptized, know that you have all it takes to love others because you are connected to the source of love, the Holy Spirit. In Romans 5:5 St. Paul says, "God's love has been poured out into our hearts through the Holy Spirit who has been given to us."

So, every baptized Christian has been empowered to love, to love like Jesus in a sacrificial way. If we are not loving others as we should, it is because we are still very self-absorbed. For us to grow in practicing sacrificial love, we must learn and practice dying to the self. True love is the decision to die to your desires, your needs, and wants and instead lay down your life for your wife, kids, neighbor, friends, or co-worker.

To love in a sacrificial way, we must be sincerely committed to die to the self. We must be honest with ourselves and say, "By nature, I am selfish but by grace, I have been empowered to love. I need to start loving in a true way because this life is not about me. I am not the center of the universe. I must think of others and be willing to put their needs before mine. I must be humble and admit that the more selfish I am, the lonelier I am becoming. But when we choose to practice sacrificial love, we feel very connected to others, we feel more alive, and we experience life to be more exciting and more fulfilling.

May we never give up in our efforts to make our relationship with others better.

May the peace of the Risen Lord continue to be with you!

Welcome to Our Lady's Corner—
Your Source for Catholic Inspiration!

Dear Mother Mary,

I wanted to write you a letter so that you know how much I love you. You are always there and you never leave. You always bring Jesus to me. When I go to Adoration, you are always in the room with me. You are tender and loving, never scolding or angry. You love me with more love that I am able to understand. And you are such a good mother. When I fall, you run to me and rock me, while whispering in my ear that I should go to confession and be reconciled with Jesus. You know that is imperative that I be restored to a state of grace as soon as possible. You know that I need this to obtain salvation, something you desperately want for me. You know that I must be reconciled to Him to receive many graces. You even help Him give graces to me.

You help me fight temptation when I call out to you. You come running to my aid as fast as you can. You have taught me humility; to place all of my trust in Him by doing so yourself. You teach me charity toward everyone regardless of what they have done. You teach me obedience by being obedient yourself. Your cooperation with God is astounding. I want to be like you Mother!

I love to gaze upon you and think about you. I love to think about your gentleness and softness. I love to feel your arms around me as I melt in them. And I love to think about your bright beautiful face!

Sometimes you are sad, and I know that it is the thought of losing your children that is making you sad. Some have seen you crying. Oh Mother, pray for those who do not turn to Him, who do not yet know Him. Fetch them quickly and snatch them from the grips of the evil one before they are forever lost. I don't want to see you cry. Help me to know that if I say the rosary every day, I can assist you. I can help to dry your tears of sadness. I can help my lost brothers and sisters with my rosary, the best prayer of all other than the Holy Mass. And I can help you obtain graces and salvation for all. I know this would make you so very happy. I want you to be happy, Mother! I know that you will never abandon those who trust in your help. I trust you Mother! Thank you for loving me so very much!
