30th Sunday in Ordinary Time

WHAT'S ON FORMED NOW?

November is no ordinary month on the Catholic Church calendar. November is the Church's great act of love for the dead. November's significance flows from the liturgical placement of All Saints Day on November 1 and All Souls Day on November 2, creating a natural progression from celebrating those in Heaven to praying for those still being purified.

This reflecting, contemplating, and praying for those who have passed on before us may generate some challenging questions about death. What happens when we die? What does Scripture teach about death? How do we prepare for the life to come?

Explore the mystery of death, dying, and everlasting life through Eternal Rest, an exclusive offering from the Augustine Institute. Eternal Rest examines the origin of death, the afterlife, and the powerful reality around the sacrament that ushers us into eternal life.

The Augustine Institute prays that through Eternal Rest, God may give you greater peace, solace, and perspective. Visit EternalRest.org for other practical resources, including 60+ videos of experts answering common questions about end-of-life medical care, funerals, legal documents, grief, and more.

Catholicism for the Curious with Deacon Dan Doheny Thursday, November 19 6:30 p.m. - 8 p.m. Parish Hall Which Sins are Mortal or Venial? What is the Impact?

Catholicism for the Curious is a monthly program for all curious people who want to deepen their understanding of Church teachings. The program, led by Deacon Dan Doheny, meets the third Thursday of each month at 6:30 p.m. in the Parish Hall.

There is no charge and no RSVP is required.

We hope to see you there!

A MESSAGE FROM FR. JESS

Dear Family of God,

What does it entail to love God above all and your Neighbor as yourself?

Our Human Dignity comes from being created in the image and likeness of God; God loves each one of us into existence. We are not a mistake. In Jeremiah he said: "Before I formed you in the womb, I knew you." (Jer. 1:5). He knows each one of us by name, each one of us is unrepeatable. We are unique. He created us in His own image and likeness. We are made partakers of his divine nature and are destined for eternal life.

In an average year in the United States, 22,000 people kill themselves, and 100,000 more try. The real cause for such attempts, say the psychiatrists, is a sense of guilt and a desire to punish oneself. G. K. Chesterton says the great lesson of "beauty and the beast" is that a thing must be loved before it is loveable. If we are God's creation, and if we are created like God because He loves us, we must think well of ourselves. We are well-made, we are God's handiwork and we are created like our Creator. There is an important message here - we are to love ourselves. In a day when self-worth is low, in a time when so much introspection is encouraged, and when human nature is looked at with suspicion, we need to say boldly - we are God-made! And let's remember, God makes us well, we are "very good" as God proclaimed right after He created the first two human beings.

May Our Lady of Joy help us to look and accept our identity and mission through God's design and not of the world.

Yours in Christ through Mary Immaculate,

Fr. Jess Ty

Welcome to Our Lady's Corner— Your Source for Catholic Inspiration

The great saint and mystic, St. Gemma Galgani said "If you really want to know Jesus, you must first learn to suffer, because suffering teaches you love."

What does she mean? How does suffering teach you love? First, to love, you must place another's needs before your own, even if that means you lose. Even if it means that you do not get what you want. It moves us beyond self-absorption and entitlement toward compassion. Suffering itself is NOT good, but LOVE is what can transform it.

Interestingly, the same suffering can lead one toward tenderness and another toward bitterness. It depends on your attitude.

During easy times, we tend to think that we are self-sufficient. In difficult times, it reveals the truth that we need one another - that we need God. This is humbling and makes love more authentic. Suffering moves us away from ego-centric thinking and more towards a life of service to others.

Suffering awakes our compassion by making us stop and really notice each other. We all struggle with fear, weakness, grief, insecurity or inner conflict that is not immediately noticed. We may even think that some people have it made. This, of course, is not true and suffering reveals this truth. And we should all be truth seekers. Suffering helps us see past bigotry. It helps us see past the lie that we do not all have something in common. We can learn to love people without considering if they are impressive in a worldly way.

Compassion means "to suffer with." When we enter into each other's suffering, we unite; something Satan, the divider, can't stand. We learn to sympathize with (not excuse) wrongdoing when we see each other as the broken souls that we are. We learn to forgive as Jesus does - forgive without counting the cost. It interrupts the cycle of vengeance.

Jesus entered into our human condition to show how suffering can be turning to redemptive grace. He invites us to "pick up our cross and follow Him", and one of the reasons, besides building character, is to allow us to do the same. No greater love has a man than to lay down his life for a friend. Laying down one's life can look like an actual death. But there are other ways to do this. Lay down your jealousy. Lay down your ego. Lay down your prestige. Lay down what you want so another can live better. Lay down your Saturday and go volunteer. Lay down your holiday and feed the homeless. Lay down some personal time to involve yourself in one of the many ministries. Lay down your plans and have the baby and give them life. Lay down your preferences and take care of a sick, compromised or dying loved one (no assisted suicide). The blessings will be astounding!

We are invited to unite all sufferings to Christ's passion. Not because his suffering was insufficient, but because He wants us to add to it and participate. Indeed, suffering teaches us to love, so we must learn to suffer. We must change our attitude.

Title: God Alone is Enough: A Spirited Journey with St. Teresa of Avila

Author: Claudia Mair Burney

Location: Saints, Teresa of Avila

Contents: This book demystifies Saint Teresa of Avila, presenting her as an accessible companion rather than a distant historical figure. It simplifies her radical teachings on prayer, encouraging a direct, personal intimacy with God over rigid formulas. Written with a lively tone, it bridges gaps for postmodern and non-Catholic readers.
